BS Pedagogy, BS Primary School Teacher, MS Speech and Language Therapy, and PhD in Education by the Complutense University of Madrid; MS Special Education at Hunter College of the City University of New York.

She is currently working at the School of Teacher Training and Education of the Autonomous University of Madrid as an Associate Professor and Chair of the Department of Pedagogy.

She has been working in service-learning projects with university students since 2000. On the topic of civic engagement at Higher Education she has lectured, coordinated monographic issues, and published over 70 articles and book chapters. She is guest editor and author of the book "Embedding Service Learning in European Higher Education. Developing a Culture of Civic Engagement (Aramburuzabala, McIlrath y Opazo (Eds.), 2019. Reutledge). She chaired in Madrid the 5th Spanish Conference on S-L in HE in 2014, and the 9th Spanish and I European Conference on S-L in HE in 2018.

Since 2008 she oriented her research interests towards the fields of service-learning and education for social justice, and is an active member of the research group "Educational Change for Social Justice" (GICE). She is the President of the Spanish University Service-Learning Association (<https://www.apsuniversitario.org>) and works as an advisor to the Municipal Service-Learning Office of the Madrid City Council. From 2013 to 2018 she coordinated the Madrid Network for the Promotion of Service-Learning.

From 2014 to 2017 she lead the European project "Europe Engage-Developing a Culture of Civic Engagement through Service-Learning within Higher Education in Europe", that aimed at promoting service-learning as a pedagogical approach that develops civic engagement in higher education and the creation of a European network. She coordinates the Spanish team in the Erasmus+ KA2 "Rural 3.0: Service Learning for the Rural Development" (2019-2021). She has actively promoted the creation of the European Association of Service-Learning in Higher Education. She is Director of the European Observatory of Service-Learning in Higher Education (<https://www.eoslhe.eu>).
